ALCOHOL IN EVERY BRAIN ABOUT DELICATE BABIES BARTER, EVERYWHERE WE RESPECT COLD CASH.

By Arthur Brisbane
(Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

A SHOCK FOR sincere prohibitionists comes from the gathering of chemists at Buffalo, N. Y. It is "proved conclusively for the first time that the human brain, liver and blood contain as one of their normal constituents small quantities of pure 100 per cent alcohol." Toxicologists of Bellevue hospital say they can extract alcohol from any prohibitionist's brain.

When we don't drink it, nature compels us to manufacture it. That is why he who swears off drinking eats so much candy.

A DELICATE BABY often causes the names of its father and mother to live in history. Harrie, who wrote "Peter Pan" reveals the fact that when Thomas Hardy, who wrote fine novels and poems, was born, the doctor dropped the new-born baby into a basin, pronouncing it dead. A woman investigated and found that the future genius was alive.

Voltaire, as a baby, had fits frequently, and the doctors would have dropped the infant but for the kindness of a good French priest, a friend of his deeply-religious father and mother, who showed the parents how to dip their little boy in hot water to save his life.

The Abbe later introduced Voltaire to Nimrod De L'Enclos, who left Voltaire money to buy books. Perhaps if the Abbe had been able to look ahead, he wouldn't have saved the infant.

We read about Russia exchanging gasoline for breeding animals from Peru and high finance laughed at the "primitive barter." She stopped laughing when Uncle Sam began trading wheat for coffee from Brazil.

The idea is spreading. A West Virginia college accepts farm products in payment for education. Doctors in the middle west put up signs: "Medical treatment in exchange for poultry and eggs."

WE RESPECT cold cash—in this country. A gentleman named Duffy had long been a criminal when he was "bumped off" by other criminals in a fashionable hotel in Atlantic City.

Before prohibition came, when crime was an industry of small profits Mr Duffy was arrested often and convicted often. Then came prohibition, to put crime on a highly profitable basis. From that time on, Mr. Duffy, who became a "big shot" frequently was arrested, but never convicted. Draw your own conclusions and make them as charitable as you can.

In the old days, when a British nobleman had a son, not bright, but physically strong, the son went into the army. If he had another son, not bright, and physically weak, that son entered the established Church of England.

We never had, in America, an army or church so convenient

WIFE, CHILDREN DROWN AS AUTO DIVES IN RIVER

Six Members of Family Succumb In Accident Near Columbus

COLUMBUS, Sept. 4.—Six persons, a woman and her five children, were drowned ten miles north of here last night when an automobile driven by her husband left a narrow park road and crashed into the Scioto river. The husband escaped.

List of Victims
The dead: Mrs. Sarah Jane Reichley, 29; and her children, Conrad, 9, Juanita, 6, Robert and Raymond, twins, 4 and Charles, 2. P. H. Reichley, the husband, said something went wrong with the steering gear, causing the car to leave the road.

A wrecker recovered the bodies and the machine shortly after its plunge into the river, 20 feet deep at that point. Reichley said he and his family were taking one of the usual drives through the park when the drowning occurred.

"The car seemed to slip a little, then stop," he said. "It stopped only an instant, though, and before I knew what had happened we were running into the water and I was either crawling or being thrown through the door."

Sucked Under Water
"Just as I went through the door, the whole machine seemed to be sucked into the water. I went completely under the water then came to the top and swam to the bank."

"I saw I couldn't do any good there so I ran to the river road and hailed autos as they passed. None of them would stop, however because it was dark, x x"

Persons in an automobile picked him up shortly after he reached a roadside barbecue stand. Efforts were made to extricate the bodies but the wrecker had to be used before occupants of the car were brought to the surface.

Reichley, nearly delirious, was given first aid at the roadside stand and later taken to his home.

SAN JUAN, PORTO RICO, Sept. 4.—The bodies of 200 persons believed to have drowned when rivers, filled to capacity by a downpour of rain, overflowed their banks at Ponce, were sought by police and national guards today.

The flood, attributed in part to the storm sweeping across the West Indies, destroyed much property and carried many houses and huts along the Portuguese and Inabon rivers into the Caribbean sea.

Thirty bodies had been found this morning. Gov. Theodore Roosevelt ordered all government departments to assist in the work. The chief of police at Ponce said it was still impossible to cross the Portuguese river, scene of the principal washout, and said he believed many dead would be found on that side.

FLIER TO SEEK RECORD IN HOP TO NEW YORK

Aviators Battle for Air Trophy, Prize Money On Long Flight

LEADER ARRIVES IN CLEVELAND AT 2:01

Final Lap of Journey Is Made Over Ohio In Poor Weather

CLEVELAND, Sept. 4.—Major James H. Doolittle, first of the eight pilots to arrive here in a high-speed dash today from Burbank, Calif., near Los Angeles, took off from Cleveland airport at 2:01 Salem time, within a few minutes after his arrival, headed for New York. He was making an attempt to break Capt. Frank Hawks' transcontinental record of 12 hours 25 minutes and two seconds.

He was the first of eight fliers to arrive in the race for the Vincent Bendix trophy and $15,000 in prizes. It was not immediately determined however, whether he was winner of the race because he started a few minutes earlier than two of the other pilots, James Hall of New York, and Art Goebel of Los Angeles.

Doolittle took off from Burbank at 4:50 a. m. eastern standard time, and made the 2,044-mile flight here in 9 hours, 10 minutes, and 21.2 seconds.

The last lap of the flight was made through treacherous storm conditions which covered most of northern Ohio and part of Indiana. Heavy rain and high wind shortly before his arrival forced temporarily the postponement of the other events of today's national air races here, and kept the crowd to about 2,000 persons.

They let out cheer after cheer as the first flier swept across the finish line. Doolittle pulled to a stop on the mud-covered airport and immediately started refueling in preparation for continuing his flight to New York. He hoped to break Captain Frank Hawks' Los Angeles to New York record of 12 hours, 25 minutes and two seconds.

Too Many Scares

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal. Sept. 4.—We got one thing to be thankful for anyhow, the country is not in as bad shape as the rumors have it.

If ever a land was rumored to death, it's us. There is not a bank in America that is not closed a thousand times a day by whispers. In fact, there is no unemployed; we got 120,000,000 people working overtime just repeating rumors.

If we did pass out as a great nation, our epitaph should read: "America Died From Fright." Yours, Will Rogers

WELCOME SACHSENS

Natives of Germany and sister countries, Transylvanian Saxons and their descendants, congregate in Salem Sunday and Monday in an event regarded by them as one of widespread significance. The Transylvanian Saxons Singing Alliance of North America banding together thousands of natives of foreign lands who have made the United States of America their homeland, holds its annual convention in this city.

It is the second time within a few years that the organization has honored Salem by selecting this city as the site for a convention. The previous affair, also a national gathering, attracted more than two thousand persons. As many, if not more, are anticipated by officials in charge on Sunday and Monday.

A song festival, to the average American's way of thinking, is a unique event. Just why a person should be interested in traveling from one city to another—and many travel farther than you or I would to attend a more auspicious occasion—to hear a concert presented by groups of male singers is rather astounding to many. With the radio, talking picture and other modern entertainments available, the subject is all the more mystifying.

Those persons who are not acquainted with the modes of German and Sachsen speaking peoples in their native lands will be bewildered no longer concerning reasons for a song festival should they attend such a gathering. It is more than the usual, holiday celebration, has more setting back of it than an ordinary entertainment. It is a period of reunion among many friends, days set aside for months in which people who once were neighbors in foreign lands convene to converse on old times and listen to old songs of The Fatherland.

Throughout foreign countries there are thousands of Americans settled in business. Occasionally they meet with a fellow countryman and there is a celebration. But there is no organization which meets regularly for renewal of friendships, for singing of American songs.

Transylvanian Saxons have such an organization and it is that body which convenes here for the convention.

Salem extends to those people a cordial welcome, invites them to gather here often and bids them good cheer.

SINCE LAST MARCH

President Hoover clubbed a hornet's nest last March when he indiscreetly showed dissatisfaction with the condition of the people on the Virgin Islands. The Islanders never will forgive him.

The President, it will be recalled, was on land only a few hours. Several days before his arrival, Dr. Paul M. Pearson, the new civilian governor of the islands, had been set ashore. Things were happening fast.

When Mr. Hoover and his party went back on board their battleship Governor Pearson's job began. His people were hurt and angry over the President's opinion of them. The new civilian governor, quite naturally, was on trial, as was the whole idea of civilian government under American rule.

It is a pleasure to read, therefore, that Governor Pearson has overcome the needless handicaps imposed on him, that he enjoys the confidence of the people he governs, and that the Virgin Islands may yet be the paradise they have been potentially for hundreds of years. Thanks to ample information concerning the present situation of the islands prepared and published after the presidential visit last March Americans as a whole known as much about the Virgin Islands as they do about any national possession.

They are willing to forget Mr. Hoover's harsh judgment and give their attention and praise to Governor Pearson.

PIE FOR JOHNNY AND MARY

Every so often there has to be a skirmish between tradition and common sense. Tradition fortunately wins frequently enough to keep life from becoming too uninterestingly rational.

The Detroit board of education came to the question of pie when it was awarding contracts for school lunch room supplies. A lady member ran up an anti-pie banner, claiming fresh fruits were more digestible.

Her rally was rebuffed by gentlemen members among them a doctor who squelched her, it is hoped, with this brilliant advocacy of a worthy cause:

Since the days of Washington and Lincoln, pie has been a great American institution—one of the greatest American institutions. From the medical standpoint, there is not doubt but that a great deal of nourishment is derived from pie.

There's the case for pie, short and crisp like good crust. Do away with pie for children? Preposterous! as well outlaw all pictures of George Washington. A couple of pooh-bahs on the idea.

What Others Say

AGRICULTURAL REVOLUTION
Here is a condition for the Farm Board to look into and scotch before the occasional crop surplus becomes a permanent surplus.

Agricultural scientists have succeeded in changing the character of plant life by the employment of the X-ray. An annual has been changed into a perennial, the portent of which is obvious to any one familiar with the great labor involved in planting the crops of the nation each year.

Be it understood by those in need of the information, that many of the feed and food crops upon which the United States depends for its normal prosperity are annual in character; that they must be raised from seed planted yearly, while the perennial comes up each year from roots remaining in the ground from the growth of the year before. Thus, we must plant our corn and wheat and cotton each year. The latter growth has perennial character in some other countries of friendlier climate—though not in the United States, where it is an annual.

Experiments carried on by Cornell university had this result: Some seed of the eucalyptus, the closest wild relation of corn, an annual in the spy used for the experiment, were exposed to X-rays for a few moments and then germinated. The young stalks began life as an annual, but later on, while still young, it developed some of the appearances of a perennial and the annual portion dried up and disappeared. The remaining stalk developed into a true perennial.

Can this evolution be carried to our wheat and corn and cotton? And if it can be, will it result in crop excesses yet undreamed of? Certainly it would have no tendency to reduce acreages, this method by which one planting of wheat or corn or cotton would turn out crops for years to come, until weeds and lack of care or fertility depletion ended the adventure.

If we have harvest excesses when we must plant as well as reap, what would they be if we had only to reap? It may be well for the farm board to take cognizance of what is going on at Cornell and stop the march of science, if it can be stopped, and needs stopping—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Stars Say —

For Saturday, September 5

An interesting, lively and engaging state of affairs may be prepared from the rather conflicting chain of mutual and lunar configurations, although it is somewhat doubtful if great progress or profit may be discernible. There is a definite menace in employment, in business and in the purely private relations which it will take much cleverness to obviate. This may be summoned, as the mind will be keen and is profitably expected. New contracts may prosper and personal matters may assume an interesting complexion.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of an interesting year, but one which will challenge their cleverness and their distinct abilities as well as dispositions. Employment should be safeguarded, business keenly managed and personal matters discreetly manipulated. There may be excellent opportunities of an unexpected nature, with situations to be made profitable by personal prestige and cleverness. A child born on this day may have a many-sided nature, with many talents and ambitions, but it will require careful direction and education to bring out its best points.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4—Thoughts

while strolling: James Montgomery Flagg suggests Bernard Shaw without a beard. Jack Pearl's awkward shyness off stage. Broadway's shuttered jewelry shops. And that spooky, dead-bulb block-long Ronald Colman sign. The horsey crowd at Beefsteak Charlie's.

E. D. Coblenz, a Santa Maria, Cal., boy, who made good in the city. Fifteen years ago on Broadway one ran into such figures as George M. Cohan, Weber and Fields and Wilton Lackaye. And now, look! Forty-second street, too, displays a lot of the Coney Island argyle-bargle.

Brock Pemberton used to resemble a lanky bush league second baseman but today he looks like a Wall street plutocrat. Believe I'll don flannels, buckskin shoes, a foulard tie and call myself Hilary. The boys of that type seem to have all the fun.

Whatever became of the silver flask business? Fred Astaire might be a leading floor clerk in Owensboro, Ky. Wish that Hollywood theatre would get a few more renters. A creepy yarn at dinner last night—a guest told of a voice suddenly awakening him at 2 a. m. saying: "I'm all right, Charley."

The next morning he learned an old classmate died at that exact time. Nobody ever looks so frightened to me on the news reels as Andrew Mellon. Wonder when America will produce another Victor Herbert? Lyn Lary and his auburn haired bride, Mary Lawlor. A tough season along Auto Row. But, salesmen are still the sprucest in town. Gilbert White could double for Elbert Hubbard. When Jack Dempsey quite fighting, the ring lost 90 per cent of its glamour. Now they are saying Justice Crater passed through the morgue as "murdered and unidentified."

And that an explosion of scandal that will shock the town is near. A sudden shower and I'm glad my wife is not with me. I can never quite hail a taxi in the rain and there's always an argument. How thin the magazines look. But don't we all?

The New York hotel association is out to scalp hotel runners who meet trains, buses and private motorists posing as official city guides. Many average $300 a week by such chicanery. Their racket is to steer strangers from reputable hotels to shady side street hospices by declaring conventions have filled this hotel and that. When they enter hotels with the victims, prices immediately sky rocket and the runners and hotels split the gyp money. No hotel in New York is packed to capacity and not likely to be for six months.

For a few weeks this summer I joined the hatless army, chiefly because I lost a hat abroad and had a shaped head requiring a lid made to order. For a time I had a feeling of having lost something. Leaving theatres I would suddenly clap my hand to my head and start back. The greatest objection, however, to one of my seldome years is the feeling of going collegiate. I always expected some upstart to yell: "Look at Pappy!"

The big compensation in going without a hat is the avoidance of annoying hat checking. Aside from the economic phase, the search for the check and the proper change is one of the nuisances of eating out. I am not converted wholly to the hatless idea but I've stopped sneering.

Many hatless recruits were those who hoped it would prove at least a palliative for falling hair. There is no conclusive record it does. This was Earl Carroll's reason—probably the first hatless man in New York—18 years ago. He still doesn't wear a hat but his hair thins with the same regularity. As Frisco observed, he will soon have to comb up a lock from under his arm.

A former Follies tenor, singing in a Brooklyn Chinese restaurant illustrates the fickle fortune of Rialto folk. Ten years ago, riding the top wave, his pay check was $1,500 a week. Today it is $60, for four songs a night and a free midnight dinner.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland,
New York City

Every now and then there springs up an establishment claiming to cure every sort of ailment. Recently my attention was directed to such an institution.

This one claims to cure hemorrhoids by injecting into the body some kind of a saline. I have no doubt that many sufferers from this common ailment seek relief from these "healers." Yet I am quite sure that no such treatment can possibly remove hemorrhoids.

There is a treatment for this ailment spoken of as the "injection treatment," which is capable of bringing about a cure. It must be applied by recognized surgeon and extends over a considerable period of time. It is a method of treatment which is advised only for those persons who for any reason cannot undergo an operation.

A "hemorrhoid," or "pile," is a small swelling either within or outside the lower end of the large intestine. This swelling is covered with mucous membrane or skin. In the center of the swelling is one or more dilated veins. In other words, a varicose condition of the vessels has developed.

Hemorrhoids are usually caused by constipation, with its accompanying irritation and straining. Certain conditions of middle age tend to bring on this undesirable weakness.

The operation for removal of the irritated areas may be safely done on even elderly individuals. There is comparatively little risk. The cure actually depends upon removal.

The prevention of hemorrhoids is simple, requiring a proper understanding of the diet. When the diet contains sufficient vegetables and material supplying "roughage," the body will be assured a healthy elimination.

If there are associated conditions such as I have mentioned, they should be removed. No complete and permanent cure of hemorrhoids can be brought about unless every such factor is entirely eradicated.

SYNOPSIS

Sally Rutherford, the last of a proud old southern family, following the ruin and suicide of her grandfather, determines to keep the heavily mortgaged Oakleigh plantation for her grandmother. She opens a hot dog stand on the Dixie highway. The estate of the Winsteads, of carpetbagging stock, adjoins Oakleigh. Henry Winstead holds the Oakleigh mortgage. His only son, Sam, is a great help to Sally, although she doesn't know his real identity until the stand is successfully started. Sally falls in love with Lowndes Jennings. Sam forces Lowndes to admit in front of Sally that he is engaged to the wealthy Gertrude Reinert. Sam asks Sally to marry him, although he knows she doesn't love him. Sally becomes Sam's wife in name only. Sam gives Oakleigh back to Sally as a wedding present. The night of the wedding Sally's grandmother dies. Sally collapses and is brought to Winsteads while she is still unconscious. When she recovers Sam tells her he is going abroad and when he returns she can sue him for divorce.

INSTALLMENT 28

THE KISS
The Dixons had come to the station in their little car. There were minutes to wait and the three men walked together on the platform. Mrs. Dixon, joined Sally. They had seen each other frequently, for Sally had "been nice" to the Virginia girl and the Dixons were frequent visitors at Winsteads. Joe knew that Sam had been tremendously in love with Sally Rutherford, and he took it for granted that she was in love with Sam—how could she help being? Still, the kindly fellow was troubled about his friend, as his wife knew. She herself was sorry that Sam was going, and she noticed that if Sam's wife felt any grief at his departure she was able to conceal it. Her sorrow was not evident.

The train rolled in. There was the usual bustle of departure. Other people had given up, and there were several other passengers. Sam had shaken hands with Helen Dixon, had wrung Joe's hand heartily, had parted from his father. Now he turned to Sally. The eyes of all on the platform were upon the Winsteads.

"You'll have to kiss me goodbye," he whispered in her ear. Dazedly, the pale girl raised her face to his, her heart thumping.

That in hand, he bent his tall fair head. For the first time—everybody was looking on, expecting him to do just that—Sam Winstead kissed his wife on the lips. But he couldn't keep his blue eyes from kindling. They went over her lingeringly, caressingly like bright blue fire. And his kiss fell on her lips like the fire of his heart, a kiss of passion and love and desire and despair and—reconciliation. Then he was gone.

She stood like one turned to stone. No one had ever so kissed her—not even Lowndes—in all her life. No man could ever so kiss a woman he didn't greatly and purely love. He had married her, saving home, Grandmother, pride. He had given her Oakleigh for a wedding present. She didn't love him, and he knew it. Now he was leaving her, to clear the path to her freedom. In parting he had kissed her. For the dear Public's eye, he said. But that kiss was a message to her heart. He loved her. She knew it. Sam Winstead loved her.

It was as if a great door had opened, letting a flood of pure light which dazzled and dazzled her. This man loved her as she had believed that Lowndes loved her. As Lowndes wasn't capable of loving. Beside this pure and unselfish passion which gave so much and demanded so little, which sacrificed itself for her happiness. Lowndes seemed to shrink and shrink to ever smaller proportions, and she herself dwindled in her own estimation. He had given her so much, and now he was giving her freedom. All along she underestimated and misunderstood.

At their urgent invitation she went home with the Dixons. But somehow the sight of their young natural happiness hurt her unbearably today. She was very silent, and she went home early, pleading a headache. There were dark circles under her eyes, and Helen Dixon mercifully let her go—she must be suffering, poor little soul!

Winsteads lay beautiful and calm.

Sam Winstead kissed his wife on the lips.

prosperous, spick-and-span even, but she thought she had never seen a place look so lonesome. It was as if the essence of life had left it. No singing voice, no blithe whistle, no quick, resilient footsteps. One of his dogs raised its head and regarded her wistfully—where was the master? Sam was the soul of the place, and his absence was painfully apparent already. Over the great gardens hung, she thought, an almost palpable hush. She went slowly upstairs, her steps dragging. Everything was going to come all right for her, he had promised. He had gone—to open the gate to freedom—for her. She should be happy—and she wasn't, she wasn't!

People came to see her, and had tea on the shaded veranda, or in the living room, in which a small fire began to make its appearance. At night she dined with Henry Winstead, pale and lovely in her diaphanous black frock with granddaddy's pearls around her slender throat. The meal was eaten in silence—she didn't know how to talk to Henry Winstead, and he was too painfully shy of her to try to make conversation. After greeting each other politely and making the usual inquiries as to one another's health, and a few standard remarks about the weather, they relapsed into silence, both acutely conscious of the chair that should have been occupied. Sometimes she went out to dine at the homes of old family friends, old ladies and gentlemen that had known her grandparents, or young folks that she herself had grown up with. They commiserated with her on Sam's unfortunate absence, but were glad that Henry Winstead had her with him. A most beautiful place, Winsteads! They praised Sam unstintingly. Splendid fellow! How she must miss him!

So the winter passed. Sam was in Palestine now, watching the work done by the new Jewish farmers. Later, he would be in England. She knew, because once a week as had been agreed, Joe Dixon wrote him giving all details of the work, and once every two weeks Sam wrote a letter to his father—a letter to Joe. He did not write to Sally. She had not asked him.

One afternoon a large car drove up to Winsteads, and a thickset, kindly man and a rather handsome very much dressed lady alighted. Mr. and Mrs. Reinert. He'd been long intending to give Winsteads the once-over, he told Sally, who had received them. So she was Sam's wife, eh? He congratulated Sam. "And you, too, Mrs. Sam," he added bluntly. "They don't come any better than Sam Winstead, let me tell you!"

They wished to be shown over the dairy, and Sally accompanied them, calling on Joe Dixon at his office. The dairy buildings were some distance from the house and grounds, the Winstead estate being a very large one. It was part of Joe Dixon's duties to show visitors about, and he did so now evidently pleased to answer Mr. Reinert's keen and intelligent questions. Mrs. Reinert wasn't so much interested, she admitted. She proposed that she and Mrs. Sam should sit in the car and wait. This, then, was the woman whose daughter Lowndes had married! Highly colored. Fairly good features. Hair most artfully "touched." Elaborate dress in the height of mode. Sally wondered if her daughter was like her? The man was... well, a better specimen. Unaffected, good humored, kindly. The Winsteads liked him, Sam had said. Sam liked the girl, too. Possibly because she resembled her father.

Mrs. Reinert chattered—or rather chattered—steadily. Winsteads was such a beautiful place! Mr. Reinert was a friend of Henry Winstead's. All of them—herself and her husband, her daughter Gertrude—like and admired Sam immensely. She and Sam had been married a little over a year, hadn't they? Just before her daughter Gertrude married Mr. Jennings. She knew Mr.

Jennings? She had met him? Such a charming young man—so well connected—and so perfectly devoted to Gertrude! It was positively thrilling to see him watching Gertrude! And as for her, she dated on him. A love match. What did anything matter as long as young married people loved each other? That's what she was always saying to Mr. Reinert. And this silly and pretentious woman was Lowndes' mother-in-law!

Mr. Reinert came back from his inspection of the dairy, and climbed in beside the chauffeur after shaking hands warmly with Joe Dixon. "Rather a nice person, your superintendent," said Mr. Reinert affably.

"Manager, Joe was Sam's roommate at Tech, and he was best man at our marriage. Very well connected, and his wife comes from a fine family. They are Virginians," said Sally, with a hint of mockery. "I knew he was a superior person the minute I saw him! Such perfectly charming manners and such a delightful voice!" She added: "I adore the South! It is so romantic!" Something between a snort and a grunt came from the front seat, and when he met her eye she smiled. She showed them over the rose gardens that were Sam's special pride and hobby, and gave them tea in the living room. Everything Mrs. Reinert saw was "Romantic" and "so enchantingly Southern" until Sally felt sick; but her liking for the husband grew, he was so direct, so unaffected, so honest. He had known Henry Winstead for years—indeed, his father had known Caleb. A hard man, but true to his word and faithful to his friends, was Caleb. Henry was even a better financier—you might call Henry a wizard, he told Sally. Always a quiet, silent sort of chap, Henry—even more so since his wife's death. He had been mad over his wife, poor fellow! Sam was very like his mother. Very like. "They're all one woman men, the Winsteads are," said Mr. Reinert. He glanced at Sally speculatively. "You've got one of 'em, and from what I hear, the best of 'em all." He added deliberately: "When a boy gets himself a lovely girl that he's in love with, and a girl marries a handsome fellow that's a credit to his name and his wife—why, I say God bless 'em both."

"Thank you, Mr. Reinert," said the lovely girl that Sam had gotten.

for parents until now. The "follow-up-man" career offers hope.

A widely-known citizen of New York said: "My younger brother is not bright, never made a success. Suddenly, he had a fine new automobile a big roll of bills. He was follow-up-man for a big bootlegger.

"When the 'big shot' sent his trucks of liquor along the highway my brother followed up, a little behind, in a fast automobile. If the liquor trucks were stopped, and policemen or prohibition agents showed signs of interfering, it was my brother's job to drive up and offer the right kind of argument, which he carried in his pocket."

It may please die-hard prohibitionists to know that their doctrine has made life brighter for some not very bright younger sons and brothers.

ERRATIC MOVES MARK TRADING

Selling Movements Hit Market; Utilities Lose Ground

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 4. — Stocks bobbed about erratically today. The market experienced two selling movements during the earlier hours but settled after each and trading was in much lighter volume than yesterday.

Utilities were soft, especially American Telephone which lost 3 points. Peoples Gas broke 5 to a new low and American Waterworks sawed 2. Merchandising issues showed some heaviness, but the rails were dull, although slightly lower. A few specialties, including Canada Dry, Midland Steel Products preferred, Eastman, National Biscuit and Case, dropped 1 to 2.

United States Steel touched the new low of 82 3/4 on one of the declines and then made virtually full recovery. American Can, General Electric, Allied Chemical and General Motors traveled a narrow course. Call money renewed at 1 1/2 per cent.

CLEVELAND LIVESTOCK
HOGS — 1100; holdover none; mostly 15-25 lower; 160-250 lb sorts 6.85, heavier weights scarce. Light lights and pigs downward to 6.00; all weights under 170-lbs. Under most pressure.

CATTLE — 400; market over-supplied with trashy other market steer forwardings decidedly dull; downturns of fully 25-50 from Monday appear necessary to move such kinds 813-819 lb weight grading medium 7.25; medium 621 lb heifers 6.10; low cutter to medium cows fairly steady, 1.50-4.25.

CALVES — 150; scarcity forcing active, erratic week-end trade; most sales 50-100 higher at upward to 11-11.50; odd head best, 12; culls 7.00-7.50 and above.

SHEEP — 600; considering dry fleeces, lambs steady to weak around 7.25-7.75; very few bringing 8.00; cull to medium throw out 5-5.50.

PERNAMBUCO, BRAZIL, Sept. 4

The Graf Zeppelin, ending a two-day visit to Brazil, dipped in farewell early today and started homeward for Germany on her ninth crossing of the Atlantic ocean.

Dr. Hugo Eckener pulled her way from the airport mooring mast, eight miles from the city at 12:00 a. m. E. S. T. and five minutes later she soared over Pernambuco, riding high and brilliantly illuminated.

She is expected to reach Friedrichshafen late Sunday or early Monday if she maintains the speed of the outward trip.

THEATER Attractions

"Traveling Husbands," the feature at the State theater today brings Evelyn Brent back to the screen after a long absence.

"Traveling Husbands" is a fun-packed comedy of embroiling love, ludicrous moments, designing women and weak men in a series of surprising situations. Paul Sloane, the director, has taken three traveling men bent on end. To this whoopee-raising trio a little partying over the week-end adds three hotel vamps. For punch we have the entrance of Barry, a youngster in the "drumming" racket, who falls in love with the daughter of a man he can't sell. Everything goes along in a hilarious vein when Evelyn Brent as Ruby appears, and sees her sweetheart with Barry's girl. From what happens then to the end of the picture is filled with suspense, grand breathlessness and general drama of a high order.

Top honors go to Evelyn Brent and Frank Albertson. Miss Brent, since the time she played "Penthouse" in "Underworld," excels in this role of Ruby in "Traveling Husbands." Frank Albertson is showing himself into stardom with one good performance after another.

At The Grand "Fifty Fathoms Deep" drama of deep sea life is the Grand's attraction today. Jack Holt and Richard Cromwell of "Tolable David" fame play leading roles.

"Fifty Fathoms Deep" tells the story of a friendship between two deep-sea divers—Tim Burke and Pinky Caldwell. Pinky marries a deceitful, gold-digging blonde, believing her to be the model of pure womanhood. She causes a rift between the two pals, making them bitter enemies. They are forced to work together again on a wreck—a yacht which is buried in 50 fathoms of water. Tim descends to the wreck in the midst of a raging storm and discovers the bodies of Pinky's wife and a well known man about-town. In his attempt to hide the evidence and spare his pal he is caught in the wreckage and is unable to free himself. The boy goes down himself.

The sight that meets him when he reaches bottom convinces him that his wife had framed him.

County Treasurer Commits Suicide

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Sept. 4.—County Treasurer M. B. Pancoast, 50, committed suicide in his garage today by shooting himself in the head.

The treasurer, who was to have relinquished his office to C. T. McCort, next Monday, was said to have been despondent because he would have nothing to do after he left office. An audit of his accounts last week, preparatory to his leaving office, showed funds of the county were in first class condition. His body was found by his son Robert who went to the garage on hearing a shot. Pancoast is survived by his widow and three children.

Pneumonia Is Fatal

U. S. OBSERVES VIRGINIA EVENT

President Will Speak At Celebration of Great Britain Surrender

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4. — The celebration of the 150th anniversary of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown, Virginia, October 19, will be attended by President Hoover.

The chief executive will deliver an address on the site where the commander of the red coated British forces surrendered his sword to George Washington, terminating the war of the revolution.

In making known his intention to speak at the celebration, President Hoover issued a proclamation calling for the observation of October 19 as a holiday.

"It is fitting," the proclamation said, "that this momentous event in the history of our nation be commemorated in such a manner as to inspire love of our country and devotion to its ideals by recalling to this generation the struggles of the past."

POKER PLAYERS ROBBED AT HOME

Guests at "Party" Robbed of $500 By Bandits; Victims Lined Up Against Wall

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 4.—Guests at what police said was a neighborhood poker game were lined up against a wall by three gunmen early today and robbed of $500. The robbers escaped in an automobile with two confederates.

The holdup occurred at the home of Mrs. Mary Malak. About a dozen persons, including several women, were playing when the trio of robbers rang the front door bell. Admitted by Mrs. Malak, the men drew guns and quickly dispatched their business.

Even Two is a Crowd When Sudoresis is Present

Crowds may be most disagreeable. What refined person but is repelled by the disagreeable odor from perspiring bodies!

Have you ever thought that perhaps you might be a crowd all in yourself to the sense of some dainty person? If you are a victim of excessive perspiration—called sudoresis by physicians—your presence may be more offensive than you imagine.

Sudoresis is a nuisance, it is unnatural. The result of excessive activity of sweat glands, it can be cured by a new scientific preparation—HANDEX.

Particularly, on unusually hot days or after unusual exercise and active recreation, no one is safe from giving off perspiration odors unless steps have been taken to prevent it. That is why Handex is gaining its place on every dressing table and in every locker at club or office. This is a toilet essential!

for every man or woman who has a proper consideration for friends or associates.

Handex is effective, easy to use, and most delightful. Its application confers an inspiring sense of confidence. You may dance, play, indulge in any activity with perfect freedom.

New Airplane Motor Material Pitted Against Steel In Race

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 4.—A new airplane engine material—the light weight, silver-colored metal magnesium in its pure form—was pitted against steel in the hard-riding competition for speed at the national air races here.

This was revealed by a group of San Francisco pilots and designers preparing two "mystery ships" to be run during the latter days of the races.

Reach High Speed

So far, during tryouts, the other planes have gone 250 miles an hour, and a third, piloted by Lowell Bayles of Springfield, Mass., has attained, over a measured course, an average of more than 267 miles an hour, which unofficially is a mile above the American record.

In the race for the new speed heights, lightness of engine more power per pound—is one of the desires of plane designers. With the six times lighter than steel, this has been attained in the mystery ships, Robert Clappett, of San Francisco, one of the pilots said.

The engine of the larger of the two ships, which is rated at 275 horsepower, has a crank case, connecting rods, cylinders and cylinder heads of pure magnesium. The cylinders are re-inforced with thin steel sleeves. In the smaller "mystery ship," which is designed to develop 185 horsepower, some of the magnesium parts are replaced by the light alloy duraluminum. Propellers of both ships are magnesium instead of steel.

TRY THE SALEM NEWS

DES MOINES—The Des Moines Register and Tribune have added purchased the ship to be used in news and picture assembling for an Auto-Giro to their news-gather- conjunction with a regular cabin several years.

Home Baked Bread

Did you ever stop to think what it would mean to the city of Salem, if everyone here ate only home-baked bread and pastry? Each and every one of you are more vitally interested in our city today than ever before. Some of you have houses to rent or sell. Others need additional families to sell shoes and clothing to. Now, think this over! If Salem people consumed only Salem-made bread it would mean at least thirty additional bakers employed in Salem. That would mean thirty additional families in our city—that would be just like getting a new manufacturing plant employing thirty men.

RECORD CROWDS EXPECTED FOR CANFIELD FAIR

85th Annual Event Opens Today; Rodeo, Three Circuses Appear

CANFIELD, Sept. 4.—Three circuses, a rodeo that includes all the color of old-time western entertainment, and the usual cattle and agricultural exhibits today were attracting hundreds of Ohioans to the annual Mahoning county fair which opened today at the Canfield fairgrounds.

Expect Record Crowd

It is the 85th year for the fair and one of the outstanding programs in history has been arranged for entertainment of the record-breaking number of spectators expected. Lucius McKelvey in charge of the speed events reports half of the 75 horses that will step in the six races, already on the grounds. There'll be three harness events Saturday and three Monday for purses of more than $600 in each race. Two mule and pony races are also scheduled.

The midway will flutter as never before with bang up amusements. Three bands will play. Already C. A. Cover is hunting for extra space to take care of the influx of all kinds of stock. The attraction, $6,000 in premiums. There'll be a rabbit show, first of its kind, an under the grand stand feature.

Prices Reduced

Prices have been smashed for Saturday to meet the depression. It will cost 25 cents for children and adults to see the night rodeo and wild west. Children admitted free Saturday. The merry-go-round, the ferris wheel are up and all kinds of concessionaires are making the place look like a tented city.

The 4-H clubs with their Junior Fair will prove a big feature and drawing card from every township in the county. Youth will show its prowess. The floral exhibit will be twice as large as in the past. And then there's fruits and vegetables and school exhibits and machinery—everything that goes to make a real county exposition.

Secretary Ed Zeigler says, "it'll be the banner fair of years."

Elder Elected

COINMBUS, Sept. 4.—Rev. W. E. Seesholtz, Canton, has been elected presiding elder of the Ohio conference of the Evangelical Congregational church, in session here. He succeeds the late Rev. H. D. Shultz.

SPEED AVIATORS VIE FOR HONORS IN AIR CONTEST

Eight Airplanes Leave California On Hop To Cleveland

BULLETIN CLEVELAND, Sept. 4. — A sudden wind and rain storm which forced a delay of today's national air race program, caused accidents in which two parachute jumpers were injured at the Cleveland airport. John F. Wickham, Cincinnati, broke his right leg and Buddy Rhodes, Little Rock, Ark., suffered a sprained back.

BURBANK, CALIF., Sept. 4. — Eight speedy airplanes, each with a star American flier at its controls, shot out of Burbank early today toward the national air races at Cleveland in competition for the Bendix air trophy and $15,000 in prizes.

If they made good time to Cleveland, the aviators planned to continue on to New York in an onslaught against the transcontinental speed record of Capt. Frank Hawks.

The official time for the take-offs, the pilot, his home town and the make of the plane, follow:

- List of Fliers
- 4:20. Lou Reichers, Arlington, N. Y. Lockheed Altair-Cyclone.
 - 4:23. Walter S. Hunter, Sparta, Ill. Travelair mystery—S-whirlwind.
 - 4:26. Captain Ira Eaker, Washington. Lockheed-Altair-wasp.
 - 4:30. Harold S. Johnson, Chicago. Lockheed-Orion-wasp.
 - 4:35. Beeler Blevans, Atlanta. Lockheed-Orion-wasp.
 - 4:40. James Doolittle, St. Louis. Laird solution-whirlwind.
 - 4:43. James Goodwin Hall, New York. Lockheed-Altair-wasp.
 - 4:46. Art Geibel, Los Angeles. Lockheed-Vega-wasp.
- The takeoffs were without accident, although Jimmy Doolittle, former army speed ace and stunt flier, gave the crowd a thrill when he opened wide the throttle of his diminutive plane and leaped across the field. His plane has a reported maximum speed of 300 miles an hour.

THE BEST IS OUT. WE NOW HAVE A HEALTH LOAF OF BREAD THAT THE KIDS WILL ASK FOR. IT REALLY IS VERY TASTY.

Seven-Game Football Schedule Arranged For Salem Bantams

THE DAY In Sports

DISCUSS GRID RULES
ONE CHANGE EFFECTED

CHANGES IN FOOTBALL rules for 1931 will be discussed at a state-wide meeting of coaches, players and officials here Saturday, Sept. 12. The meeting, the largest of its kind in the state, will be sponsored by the Ohio High School Athletic association, the major collegiate associations of the state, and the Ohio Association of Football Officials. The discussion will be open to the public.

Only one major change in the game has been prescribed in this year's football rules. It concerns a foul committed during the try-for-point after touchdown. Formerly, the additional point was awarded or forfeited when a foul was committed during the try. Under the new ruling, the penalty will be enforced unless declined by the offending team. In case of a penalty the try may be made again.

According to Dr. F. A. Lambert, nationally known football official and rules authority, there have been many minor rules changes which will have an important bearing on interpretation of the code.

The rules conference will consume several hours. An evening session also will be held. Parke H. Davis, Easton, Pa., nationally known football statistician, will speak.

OHIO HUNTERS are looking for a very lean season on waterfowl shooting as the result of President Hoover's proclamation cutting the duck season to an open period from Oct. 1 to Oct. 31.

The old hunters say that duck shooting, in a normal year, just about gets under way in Ohio by Oct. 31. The late October months and the first two weeks in November have been considered the best for shooting in the Buckeye state.

The quest of Ohio hunters will consist, for the most part of birds that remained in the state through the summer months and those that were hatched and reared in this section. This condition probably will hold true unless cold weather arrives unseasonably early and starts a premature migration from the northern nesting areas.

And we have also an anonymous contribution of an all-star aggregation to include Mullins players. Here they are:

INFIELD—Scott 1b, Kelley 2b, Sartick ss, F. Scullion 3b.

OUTFIELD—C. Scullion lf, Fitzpatrick mf, Ed Sidinger rf, Borton rs.

CATCHER—M. Schuller.

PITCHER—Again, Christen and Early.

James D. Primm, former member of the Salem athletic board of arbitration, selects an all-star aggregation for a series with Mullins. We hope you like it.

INFIELD—Morris 1b, Kelley 2b, M. Sartick ss, F. Scullion 3b.

OUTFIELD—C. Scullion lf, Miller mf, Sanders rf, Veon rs.

CATCHER—M. Schuller.

PITCHERS—The usual Early and Christen.

Salem's representation in the Ohio Bantamweight Football association, the Sheen Bulldogs, open their season Thursday, September 17, clashing with the strong Akron Midgrits under floodlights at Akron. A schedule of seven games is in store for the Salem outfit.

Play Kent Bearcats

Billed to oppose such teams as the Kent Bearcats, Cuyahoga Falls, Ravenna, Youngstown, the Bulldogs, organized for the first time this year, have a stiff schedule ahead of them. Thirty-three candidates are working out regularly at Centennial park.

J. M. Kelley and Russell Stallsmith, both former Salem High grid stars, are in charge of the team, assisted by George R. "Butch" Vollmer, another former Red and Black flash. Vollmer is tutoring center talent, Kelley backfield stars, and Stallsmith linemen.

Night Games Scheduled

Opening with the Akron team, the Bulldogs oppose Cuyahoga Falls, at Falls, on September 26, then return to Reilly athletic stadium for their first game on Friday, October 2. The nationally famous Kent Bearcats, coached by Harry Jacobs, former scholastic and semi pro grid star, will oppose the bantams under the stadium's flood light system.

Ravenna plays here Friday, October 9, while on either October 16 or 17, Joe Green's Youngstown Midgrits will furnish the opposition, also at Reilly stadium. Ravenna will be played at Ravenna on October 24 while Duffy's Bantams, Youngstown, are billed at Youngstown on October 29.

Boxers Need License

LONDON — Alien boxers henceforth will be required to take out a license from the British Board of Boxing Control. The charge for the permit is five shillings ($1.25) and it will be good for 12 months from issue.

The fact that British boxers are required to pay a fee when appearing in most foreign rings has prompted the stewards of the B. B. B. C. to take this action. Formerly visiting boxers have fought in British rings without B. B. B. C. licenses.

LAKESIDE, O.—"Barnyard tossers" in a recent state championship horseshoe pitching tournament scored 10,616 ringers out of a possible 19,328. Bert Duryee, Cleveland, who won, pitched 913 ringers out of a possible 1,217 for a percentage of 71.5.

NILES GRIDDERS START PRACTICE

Heavy Team In Prospect As Smith Prepares For Salem Game

NILES, Sept. 4.—McKinley high school faces a nine-game football season with a slightly heavier prospective eleven than the team Coach Olin B. Smith put on the field last year.

Thirty candidates sought uniforms at the first drill of Smith's fifth season as coach here this week. More are expected today, as 45 reported for spring practice.

Stars Graduate

Smith's first glance over his squad was in search of a punter to replace Arthur Barron, end last season. Likely Zeigler, veteran halfback will develop sufficiently to fill the job. Besides Barron, Smith lost Fred DeMas, a tackle, by graduation.

Lettermen out at the first drill were Griffith, fullback; Antennucci, and Zeigler, halfbacks; Sloan, quarter; Mawby and Caizza, guards; Snowball, center, and Hoon, end. Richardson, guard former student at McKinley, returns this fall after a year at Girard.

The youths entered into the first drill with a mid-season snap, although nothing strenuous was demanded. They limbered up by tossing the ball about, learning something of a new play by "slow motion" scrimmage, and ran signals.

School Opens Sept. 14

Until school opens Sept. 14, the squad will be drilled morning and afternoon and then Smith will hold practice once a day until Sept. 25 to get ready for the first game, with Salem at Salem.

Assisting the veteran mentor are his brother, L. F. Smith, starting his second year, who will pay most attention to the backfield and Kenneth Weber, who again is trainer.

The Niles schedule:

Sept. 25—Salem at Salem.
Oct. 3—East at Niles.
Oct. 10—Alliance at Niles.
Oct. 17—Wellsville at Wellsville.
Oct. 24—Ravenna at Niles.

POTTERS DEFEAT COLONIAL TEAM IN 10-9 BATTLE

Sandwich Shop Dropped From List of Titular Contenders in Loop

The Salem China company bunched hits and errors for ten runs and a 10-9 victory over the Colonial Sandwich Shoppe team in a hectic battle at Centennial park field Thursday, eliminating the losers from their rank among the list of contenders for city softball honors.

Errors Mar Game

Plenty of errors played the lead role in the Potters' victory as the Colonials muffed easy chances and committed several mental misplays in both infield and outfield. Errors also played a prominent part in scores negotiated by the victim who staged a brilliant rally after two were out in the fifth to tally four runs and come within an ace of evening the count.

McFeely and Vincent toiled for the two teams, neither benefiting from erratic support. Alton's fly over C. Sidinger's head that went for a homer was the winning run.

The Cox Studios outscored the Ohio Edison team but lost the nightcap on forfeit when it was revealed they used an ineligible player, "Slats" England, on the mound. The win put the power team in fourth place.

Laundry Withdraws

The Pottery-Colonial game was played after the American Laundry team withdrew from the loop, forfeiting to the Community Service Station.

125 Gridders Turn Out At Youngstown South Grid Session

ASHBAUGH SET FOR WORKOUTS; SEEKS LINEMEN

Prospects Boosted High By Heavy Turnout of Candidates

PLAY SALEM HIGH ON NOVEMBER 6

Wealth of Backfield Material Returns; Many Stars On Squad

YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 4.—Gridiron possibilities at Youngstown South High were boosted sky high Thursday when Coach "Busty" Ashbaugh, gathering for a meeting with football candidates for the 1931 season, was greeted by collection of 125 lads, all of them anxious for the opening of the Southmen's campaign.

60 Uniforms Issued
Sixty uniforms were issued by Ashbaugh to the most likely looking youths in the group while additional equipment may be distributed next week. Because of lack of funds last year's uniforms and other equipment are being used for the fore part of the 1931 campaign.

Ashbaugh is back from a three weeks' fishing trip at Chaffey's Locks in Canada, primed to wield the iron hand rather than the steel rod. Ashbaugh, with the exception of a slight hoarseness in cured, is feeling "great" to use his own words and announced that he would take over personal charge of the South High huskies.

"I have entirely recovered from my illness of the spring. I intend to take an active part in personal coaching of the team assisted by Lamar Armstrong, declared 'Busty'.

Seeks Line Candidates
"Busty" is looking for line candidates. Graduation and ineligibility have stripped club of all veteran wingmen with the exception of Bill Jobe and there is some doubt whether he will return to school.

Ashbaugh has an abundance of backfield veterans despite the departure of Paul Crawford, Ray Sweeney, Gil Barquist and Tom Maloney. In the new ball totting group is Howard Baldwin, quarterback, who shone brilliantly at the flag end of the season, the sensational colored halfback, Lehman Tomlin, Dan Humphrey, Chris Lomberger and Antonucci. The husky Minehart is said to be ready to try for a backfield berth.

The line presents a problem, Jobe will hold down one position if he attends school. Then Snowski, a fine player in the Thanksgiving day joust, will be a guard. Ken Franklin, Beynon, Bill Duff, Brown and others showed up well in spring practice.

Garfield Replaces Gary
One newcomer appears on the South schedule with Akron Garfield replacing Gary, Ind.

South was billed to play Akron St. Vincents on Oct. 31 but on the last day of school Coach Eddie Wagner of the Rubber City team called the battle off, claiming Ashbaugh's crew was "too tough." Thus South is dickering for a game to fill the open date.

"Busty" nabbed some four and one-half pound bass in Canada but he claims "There's now fish on the schedule." Here's the 1931 grid card:
Sept. 19—Boardman.
Sept. 26—Memorial.
Oct. 3—At Lakewood.
Oct. 10—Akron Garfield.
Oct. 17—Warren.
Oct. 24—Rayon.
Oct. 31—Open.
Nov. 6—At Salem (night).
Nov. 14—New Castle.

Race Drivers Clash For Speed Crown

The national championship crown will be at stake when America's headline gasoline jockeys bid for laurels on the world famous Altona Speedway Monday. Freddy Frame, (left) popular Californian and Lou Schneider, (right) Indianapolis winner, will stage a "battle to the finish" for the coveted headgear signifying supremacy in the world of speed. Frame, only 100 points behind Schneider in the title standing, is looking hopefully. But Schneider's expression is equally as hopeful. Too bad if it doesn't fit!

What The Stars Did Yesterday

(By Associated Press)
OSCAR MELILLO, Browns — Drove in five runs with double and three singles in 11-3 victory over Indians.

BOB OSBORN, Pirates—Relieved French with two on base in second and shut out Cardinals with three hits in remainder of game to win 6-4.

MARK KOENIG, Tigers—Handled 13 fielding chances and batted in two runs as Tigers downed White Sox.

OWEN CARROLL, Reds—Held Cubs to seven hits in ten innings to beat Pat Malone in mound duel 3-2.

Convicts
KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.—Several University of Oregon football players employed during vacation at Crater Lake National Park, were mistaken for convicts. The grid stars wore regulation sweat shirts with numbers on their backs.

Graduation Of Stars Fails To Hurt Army Prospects

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of advance stories on top-ranking college football teams.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 4.—Even though almost an entire football team — and one good enough to cause trouble for any opponent — has been lost by graduation, injuries and scholastic ineligibility, Army again promises to be one of the east's leading 1931 teams.

Five Ends Lost
Army's losses include five ends, Carlmark, Messinger, Malloy, Fletcher and Burlingame; three backs, Bowman, Letzelter and Greene; four guards, Hillsinger, Humber, Gurr and Carlson; two tackles, Gordon and Parham; and two centers, Miller and Park. Of this group, seven—Messinger, Hillsinger, Miller, Humber, Carlmark, Bowman and Letzelter—were regulars of 1930. Five others, Malloy, Carlson, Park, Gordon and Fletcher, were members of the second team and saw frequent service as varsity reserves.

Tackles Return
Saurez and Captain Price at tackles and Trice at guard furnish a nucleus for the line with the other guard post, center and the two ends open for competition. Major Ralph Sasse again will serve as head coach with Earl Black, Harry Wilson, Charlie Born, Harry Tilling, and Maurice Dain as his varsity assistants. Captain "Biff" Jones, Sasse's predecessor, has returned to the academy after a year at Fort Sill and has been assigned to the athletic department. Practices are scheduled daily until the opening of the season when the Friday and Saturday drills for the varsity will be abandoned.

The schedule includes seven home games and away from home contests with Yale, Pittsburgh and with Notre Dame at New York.

CINCINNATI WINS FROM CUBS, 3-2

Chicago Drops 10-Inning Battle As Carroll Better Malone

(By Associated Press)
The boys smiled tolerantly not long ago when Col. Dan Howley, in one of his exclusive interviews, expressed the opinion that his Cincinnati Reds were the "best last place club the National league ever saw."

What the Colonel inferred was that he had a coking good team, but that it was up against the strongest opposition in the history of the circuit. From the manner in which his Red Legs have been knocking off the Chicago Cubs the last several days, it appears he knew what he was talking about.

Carroll Defeats Malone

They made it four straight yesterday when Owen Carroll outlasted Pat Malone in a 10-inning mound duel, 3 to 2. The Reds' present winning streak is their second longest of the year. They captured five straight back in June, but their victims were the Phillies and Braves, not a first division club like the Cubs.

The Pittsburgh Pirates fell on Burrell Grimes, himself for a 6 to 4 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. Led by Tony Piet, rookie second baseman, who rapped two doubles and a single and scored twice, the Pirates got to Grimes for seven hits and all their runs in the second and third innings.

Oscar Melillo cracked a double and three singles and drove in five runs as the St. Louis Browns took their opener from Cleveland, 11 to 3.

Mars Tries Comeback

CINCINNATI, O.—K. O. Mars, leading Cincinnati featherweight several years ago, is another of the ring's "former stars" to attempt a comeback. Mars, in his fighting prime, fought Johnny Kilbane twice, losing both matches.

TODAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

Featured by a company of artists distinguished in the musical world, the "Voice of Firestone" returns to the air at 7:30 p. m. Monday over a nationwide NBC network which reaches an estimated audience of forty million.

James Melton Featured
James Melton is the tenor soloist for these weekly broadcasts. This internationally known star of radio and the concert stage combines real genius with an unusual personality. Starting his career as a member of the University of Florida Glee Club, he took up music in earnest after graduation and has mastered the technical difficulties of singing over the microphone.

Gladys Rice, the soprano of the cast, was once a soloist for "Roxie and his Gang" in that well known stage presentation. Profiting by the popularity she gained at that time, she later turned to the radio as an outlet for her art and has been extremely successful. Critics have pronounced the vocal qualities of her voice as ideally suited for this type of work. Miss Rice's public career began when she was seventeen years old, at which time she was a member of a dramatic stock company.

San Francisco—Some courts order a man deprived of his life, but this court restored life to a man. Four years after he had been declared "legally dead" Antonio Parane, war veteran, has bobbed up in Italy very much alive. As a result, Superior Judge Thomas Graham here has rescinded his order of four years ago, and has reestablished Parane among the living.

Cincinnati, O.—Hundreds of articles, from galoshes to Bibles, are lost each year by University of Cincinnati students. Records of the school's lost and found bureau show that 80 per cent of the lost articles are gloves, textbooks, scarfs, umbrellas, fountain pens, fraternity pins and pencils. Other possessions frequently lost are purses, watches, keys, clothing and jewelry.

Baker in Court

COLUMBUS, Sept. 4. — Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, former secretary of war, appeared in common pleas court here today and argued for some 1,400 petitioners who seek the removal of Probate Judge Homer J. Bostwick. The argument was on the right of the court, as represented by Judge John R. King to suspend Bostwick pending a hearing on the petition.

THREE IN RACE FOR MAYOR AT EAST PALESTINE

New Record Vote Is Seen As Interest Increases In City Contests

EAST PALESTINE, Sept. 4.—New records in total votes—cast in an East Palestine municipal election are expected Tuesday, November 3, when the city's voters march to the polls to cast ballots in one of the most interesting mayoralty contests in history.

Independents In Race
The advent of a third party into the political field stirred local political waters today. The Independent and Democratic groups, considered the city's minority parties, each are represented by four candidates, one of whom is seeking the mayoralty election.

John Booth is the Independent candidate for mayor while David Fullerton, J. R. Zilk and Grant Reagle will seek positions on the city's council body, also as Independents. Fullerton is a candidate for council-at-large, Zilk for Third and Reagle for Fourth ward posts.

Booth Seeks Post
A three-cornered fight for the mayoralty and the race of candidates seeking the mayoralty are incentives to increased voting expected at the election. Booth is involved in contests with Mayor W. A. Shasteen, Republican, and W. E. Garside, Democrat.

John W. Moore, clerk of the county board of elections, said today that Columbiana county will have under 2,000 population, including Hanoverton, New Waterford, Rogers and Washingtonville, which do not hold primary elections, must file tickets for the finals before Friday night.

'Lon Chaney' Of Crime World Will Be Freed From Prison

(By United Press)
 CANON CITY, COLO., Sept. 4.—Count Karl Von Buelow, ace of the German espionage system during the World war, but more recently a water at the Colorado state penitentiary was ordered freed today.

Will Be Rearrested
 Federal immigration authorities ordered, however, that the former spy be rearrested at once and held for deportation.

Von Buelow, man of mystery during the hectic war days when he was the chair of Captain Karl Boy-Ed, director of the German intelligence service, has served two years and three months of a prison sentence for forgery.

Abandoned by his own country, where political changes are said to have made him unwanted, Von Buelow is literally a man without a country.

Given his choice, he says he will go to Vera Cruz, Mex., where he claims to have holdings sufficient to enable him "to live like a gentleman."

COUNTY OBTAINS $1,300 FROM TAX

Cigaret Stamp Sales High On Wednesday, George Reports at Lisbon

LISBON, Sept. 4.—Cigaret excise tax stamp sales totaled $1,300 at the close of business Wednesday afternoon, County Treasurer Fred George announced today. The initial shipment of stamps was valued at $4,000. While a check of all sales in the county has not been made, 149 orders for stamps have been filled.

Majority of the orders called for two-cent tax stamps, although a lot of orders also called for the one-cent and five-cent edition.

A special register has been obtained by Treasurer George in which all sales are recorded, giving name and location of the dealer, date of stamp purchased and the amount paid and the number of the various denominations sold. A monthly report will be filed with the state treasurer at Columbus.

FOUR EXPELLED FROM ANNAPOLIS

First Class Midshipmen Forced to Resign by Navy Department

(By Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Four first class midshipmen at the Annapolis naval academy have been forced to resign because of escapades in foreign ports during the recent annual summer cruise.

Secretary Adams of the navy, said the resignations were demanded because of "unfortunate behavior" of the midshipmen, who reported to have engaged Copenhagen's police in street fighting.

The ousted men are John R. Parks, Columbia, Missouri; George E. Fink, Haddon, New Jersey; Earl S. Schweitzer, McKeesport, Pa., and Colwell E. Beers, Keyville, Mo.

A fifth student may be asked to resign. Several other midshipmen, less involved in the affair, were punished at the academy. Secretary Adams did not divulge their names.

The conduct of the midshipmen was reported by Rear Admiral Claude C. Bloch, commander of two battleships taking 900 naval students to Europe, to rear Admiral Thomas C. Hart, academy superintendent. Hart recommended their dismissal after hearing the midshipmen's statement in their own behalf.

THREE EXPECTED TO ENTER RACE FOR OHIO POST

Third Candidate Remains Unidentified; Brown to Oppose White

(By International News Service) COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 4.—Identity of the "dark horse" who, as Entry No. 3, will compete with Governor George White and Secretary of State Clarence Brown for the Republican nomination for governor next year still remains a matter of speculation among political observers of the state capital here.

Recently some officials at the statehouse thought they knew who the candidate would be. They hinted that former Congressman Ralph D. Cole of Findlay, widely known G. O. P. orator, would shortly announce his candidacy.

Cole Denies Reports But Cole has declared himself out of all quests for political office. He has said he has been in public office 18 years and that he has "had enough."

Friends of former Congressman James Begg, formerly of Sandusky but more recently a resident of Cleveland, have been urging him to weigh in again as a contestant for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Cooper defeated Begg for the nomination three years ago. The impression has been prevalent in statehouse circles that Begg will not enter the race next year.

Tracy May Seek Post The latest report here is that State Auditor Joseph T. Tracy or Congressman Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton, one of Ohio's prominent Republicans, may seek to corral the nomination at the G. O. P. primary next year.

Regardless of whether Tracy, Jenkins or some other good Republican decides to make it a three-cornered race, friends of Cooper and Brown insist that both the former governor and the present secretary of state will be candidates for the governorship.

With Attorney General Gilbert Bettman planning to weigh in as a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, indications are here that Attorney John Bricker of Columbus, member of the state utilities commission, will announce his candidacy for the G. O. P. nomination for attorney general.

Miss Langdon's bridesmaids also wore pajamas, while the bridegroom, his best man and the ushers wore yellow corduroy trousers and dark double-breasted coats.

The ceremony was performed in the Seattle Gospel tabernacle by the Rev. Robert T. Elwell, who appeared in regular clerical garb.

Fugitives Battle With Ohio Police

DAYTON, Sept. 4.—Police of Cincinnati and Dayton are searching for the driver and four other occupants of an automobile belonging to a Cincinnati man who engaged five police men here early this morning in a running gun battle but who managed to escape. Police sought to question the quintet after receiving a tip that they were acting suspiciously in front of an apartment building.

None of the more than 50 bullets exchanged by the fugitives and police took effect.
